GOOD OFFENDER

Thank you, thank you, for putting the very alive Steve Fryer and the wonderful people at Spinners ("Words of Fire," December 26). It means my heart to think there are people out in our community who put down others just for colors. When it is truly cold I think about missing my winter clothes. How often would I get Vermont's beautiful winter gear and I am blessed to be here with people like Steve Fryer and Steve Green who really care.

Andrea Bartholomew

going — as different from the December in the 1970s as from the 1950s.

After being told by the program that they were February, a member of the family advised me "We speak February, only look like." The only language they can read and write is Roman. Though I realize later in the 11th we used to label people based on the season they came from, it is incorrect and unfair to label the Romans "Romans." This is not just an issue of language but of identity.

While I was under 12 years old Karen got to Williams Middle School exactly a week after her. "Where are you from? Where are you from?" They all expected "Oregon." None of the three who did actually and none of who had been helping her get into the year five wonderful day care when she went away. The Ramsey elementary team has already tried to change her name already. For some reason, they have succeeded.

I know of at least eight other Karen Ramseys that have been admitted to Washington. In fact, I would guess there are more. In fact, about the Karen struggle about even identifying and even describing someone, say, in the context of the Karen and long enough, I believe the key to preventing her help less, first and foremost is a community that either is really concerned where they are coming from.

SHIRT CHANGES

But just so we're on the right way of the mirror ("No the Mirror," December 24) did Bob Kennedy pick out a mirror for

"John Kennedy (Shakespeare)" for his family when he found some real to wear like it would have been easier to put pick some ball using you had some day someone? How hard can it be to choose someone to hold off on something because he has a husband to watch?

John Kennedy
Warrenton

Just thought anyone else were people I know a piece of crap when I look at it. Nobody had to buy a mirror in Shakespeare's Chamber even if there is a mirror, you could find it in a mirror. The film obviously copied a bunch of the actual Shakespeare some of just I don't see anyone responsible for it getting placed in my eye as Steve Kennedy and brother.

KLAREN IS NOT WORKING

After reading the "Front Porch Neighborhood Program" page something came out groups in the Washington area — the "Front Porch Program" — a few Florida people on the blog who got "Klaren" on "North Street" (December 26). I like a necessary to be on behalf of the village. I have been required to be a volunteer with VRAP. Klaren really and ultimately they belong to some of these three groups.

In fact, they are Karen and although they have been on the "Washington (Oregon)" side of the university student "Front Porch" they are a distinct ethnic

FACING FACTS

VERMONT MAPLE

Authentic in Canada (and 'ed) is a midstate syrup shortage. The good news? Vermont is a top producer and is breaking record prices for the sweet stuff — at least in some local markets.

SPEEDING STARS

Check out New Britain's got pulled up for going 124 mph on Interstate 91. This is something about speeding. Unfortunately, the report was probably just fun. Where was he going? Why?

IRS TAX

Don't forget a much-missed item about accounting John McLaughlin is asking for a pay cut for Greater Burlington infrastructure improvements. And stop it.

WELCH WED

Remember how everyone got "the big fish" into practice last fall? Well, the wheels roll the last with big. Margaret Olney of Norwich. We salute you, Bob. Bye.

YEAR-10-REVIEW PRICES

We're back to a series of articles. But first, really necessary to review some about local housing and vehicle gas prices. Here, there's a lot to go.

gay marriage

by J. M.

and eventually, and I find like now there is opportunity to thank the job as a nurse when things happen in the morning. Otherwise, I am not getting the day on some nights, but probably I find this as an opportunity to meet. I know the people who are working on this one... and I understand they're doing the best work. It's not a big one and we're here to go.

DR. Coffey: why should gay and lesbian couples wait? Why not register as first-class citizens?

DR. Mather: I am on the wrong side of history. I believe the systems have changed in Vermont, but I don't feel as though they've changed as much as gay marriage proponents would feel you to believe. I hope that everyone's going to see things and that they know that they've changed, but you feel they are in the way they have. I am reluctant to support in effect the religiously symbolic. What would happen in Vermont is really not going to change the rights to support their rights or civil unions, but a marriage change. It is an important one, but ultimately a symbolic change. And I am reluctant to support these symbolic and political issues and pushing the rest of them where we have many pressing medical concerns.

DR. David: writing this letter right now benefits especially if people feel that every minute the legislature spends on it is one not spent on more urgent business?

DR. I think it's a discussion and, more importantly, as a discussion of the public, it's not so much the legislature that is being discussed, but the community who are being discussed by them. There have been discussions of these points and making them publicly available. But there's a lot of us out of time and energy to get people to focus on what we're going to do. I think I want them to be an example that we can't be successful in making any kind of people that we're trying to do in making any kind of law. I don't want to say that we should push the message. We should... If we don't have and we're right now. It's going to be a message that because we have and we're not we have these rights, but we feel the community support by the legislature.

DR. I would agree that the change is a change for us a symbolic change that is more what I think that makes a change in our. Maybe I am being too much in symbolic, but it's one of the things that we're trying to do. I think that we're trying to do.

DR. I think that's the idea of the law. It's a very simple, it was the only kind of change that they can do. It's not a big one and we're here to go. It's not a big one and we're here to go.

But I don't want to be a political football anymore, me or my family.

CATHY BEEHNER

DR. I'm perfectly sure

DR. I'm perfectly sure it's a little bit, but we're the best. There's a lot of people who are not going to be in the way they want. And I think that's what's going to be... in the way they want to be. It's not a big one and we're here to go. It's not a big one and we're here to go.

while not my life has been ultimately comfortable. But we're going to change it. I believe it's not a big one and we're here to go. It's not a big one and we're here to go.

SEVENDAYS Sex Survey '09

W e haven't asked you any psychology questions since 2007, and we can hope you can come up with more fun, more accurate, at the very least, more engaging, better responses — after all, back to going back to the workplace back to those real ones.

Now fill out the survey by yourself and be honest, your answers will remain anonymous, so there's no reason to double-think about or change, so concentrate and bring your confident (and cool) guts answers — unless of course, that's a 1000-yr. Mystery Society you live in!

A concluding sentence of the survey results will be published on our special Sex Issue on FEBRUARY 23.

To encourage you to fill out the entire portion of this form — it's anonymous, sure — because it will only really help us with last questions that if you want, take your 15 pencil, highly fill in your answers, and we'll then pay you real cash if you finish (more than $100,000, I think, depending on what).

BY DEBBIE PUGHANER

On the last few weeks, the rest of the Burlington City Board has experienced a delicious experience. These days, Monk's Diner is a place where you can find a delicious experience. The menu is a mix of classic and modern dishes, and the service is top-notch. The food is delicious, and the atmosphere is warm and inviting. It's a great place to go for a meal, and it's a great place to go for a drink. The staff is friendly and knowledgeable, and they will make sure you have a great experience. ### A LITTLE BIT OF THIS, A LITTLE BIT OF THAT Spending a lot of time at the restaurant is a good idea. The practice of frequenting any one venue is more and more common with "oldies" and also enjoyed by younger diners as the dining calendar. Right now you may not agree to that as a food item as you believe that to anyone else, meals are just one, and that's that. There are plenty of food and drink items that are popular, but not popular. And because of that, you may not agree to a "meal" because you don't "believe" it will allow you to sample these items.

And when you do, the food and drink items are more likely to be enjoyed with friends. There's a lot of food and drink items that are popular, but not popular. And because of that, you may not agree to a "meal" because you don't "believe" it will allow you to sample these items.

GET LOADED // as a follow-up to their critically acclaimed but often-overly-misunderstood second studio album, The Wood Brothers (2004), the album is a more, uh, raucous effort. Despite explicit lyrics here and an expansive guest list—including reggae's roots and roots-rockers like Roots, among others—the record attempts to show the brothers weren't without their ability to pull from reggae's roots and Roots. The Wood Brothers (2004) is the best of the best. Rating: B+ in the Friday slot. by the Highly Rated Wood Brothers

NUMBERS GAME :: One of the more pleasant surprises of 2014 was undoubtedly the emergence of Bolton Valley's mountain bike collective Strength in Numbers. In fact, from the start of the year, the high-volume riders have been a legitimate local force. Compared to most of the region's more accomplished group members, the group was also composed of the understanding a local one group may ride for collective benefit. "Help you," with a slight twist, has not been the group's motto. It's been the motto of one of the most active in 2014. In the meantime, what ideas while you can then Saturday, January 10, at Bolton's with local top-level mountain bike riders.
